You hear the silence broken by an old familiar voice
Could it be your talkin' to the walls
You've tossed for just a moment and then you realized
That it's just a mem'ry callin' and that's all
A day that last forever is nothin' but a moment Compared to the night that's yet to come
For there's nothing quite as lonely as a bed that's been slept in by one
A day that last forever...
