

Save The Day

Ferry Corsten

One chance to get it right
Everyday's a weight on your shoulders
Your whole life can pass you by if you wait too long
Tick-tock, the hands of time
Everyday here, another day older
Last stop on this bumpy right
But your holding on, your holding on
You and I were needed
To walk the line believin'
The sacrifice is worth the fight
It'll all turn out all right but now the music's fading
Here we are still breathing
To dance like everyday before
Can't do it any more
No more stars to guide us
No more light inside us
It's too late to wait for love to save the day
No use trying to get there
Drive this road to nowhere
It's too late to wait for love to save the day
No more stars to guide us
No more light inside us
It's too late to wait for love to save the day
No use trying to get there
Drive this road to nowhere
It's too late to wait for love to save the day
Save the day
