

Just so you know, we are the product of people you stole
Letting you know, this is like nothing that you've seen before
Just so you know, we are the product of people you stole
Letting you know, this is like nothing that you've seen before

How could you blame me? It's what you made me
Behind bars ever since we were babies
They try to tame me, but can't detain me
I might bend, but you'll never ever break me
I fight mainly just for my safety
This ain't a game so you'll never ever play me
Don't spend a day in my shoes, go on and trade me
This is the kind of shit I go through daily

It's in my eyes, I've seen the very top of the mountain
I'll die tonight if this is what it takes to believe
My heart won't stop beating until there's nothing left
It's in my eyes, you'll see them as you're burning alive
Burning alive

I'd feel better if (what?)
My future wasn't written 'cause the present is a gift
While they treat us like we don't exist
He act as if his residents are just fuckin' irrelevant
Let's address the elephant
You treat me as a felon what about your fuckin' delegates?
Let's address the elephant
You treat me as a felon what about our fuckin' president?!

It's in my eyes, I've seen the very top of the mountain
I'll die tonight if this is what it takes to believe
My heart won't stop beating until there's nothing left
It's in my eyes, you'll see them as you're burning alive
Burning alive

Just so you know, we are the product of people you stole
Letting you know, this is like nothing that you've seen before

Burning alive

Yeah
Just so you know, we are the product of people you stole
Letting you know, this is like nothing that you've seen before

Oh, we did it y'all
We did it together
That's how we win
We, the people to fight the power to maintain our power
And when we win, because you know we will, it's all power to all people
