

PIN DROP

FEVER 333

Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop
Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop
Stop

Out on bail, still here, but I'm barely breathing
I got resuscitated then I took another beating (Put him on the floor)
I'm on the run 'til I'm finally free
But that's a long road, you gon' be running for weeks
And when I get there I bet they'll surround me and scream Put ya head down and ya hands up or the trigger will squeeze
'Cause now they're losing grip
And they ain't gon' let me slide if they ever catch me slippin'
Listen
They wanna make me a statistic
Build a wall with the odds and then push me up against it
No respect for authority
'Cause they making headlines out of dead minorities

I want peace, I want blood
I want tragedy, I want love
It ain't black and white if you're living right between what it is and once
was
I want blood
I want blood
It ain't black and white if you're living right between what it is and once
was
I want blood

Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop
Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop

I'm a premeditated felony
There's one in four black men in jail, that's what they telling me, uh
The funny thing is everything don't mean a thing
When you born in this world without anything so Don't be surprised when we mobilize
Then go to war with an army of niggas that ain't afraid to die
Am I scared? Bitch, please
You either ride or you die, never live on your knees

I want peace, I want blood
I want tragedy, I want love
It ain't black and white if you're living right between what it is and once
was
I want blood
I want blood
It ain't black and white if you're living right between what it is and once
was
I want blood
(I want blood)
(I want blood)
(I want blood)

The system ain't broke, they just built it that way
(Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop)
And we wasting hope waiting for it to change
(Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop)

The system ain't broke, they just built it that way
(Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop)
And we wasting hope waiting for it to change

Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop
You can hear the pin drop
Shh, quiet, you can hear the pin drop
Shh, quiet

I want peace, I want blood
I want tragedy, I want love
It ain't black and white if you're living right between what it is and once
was
I want blood
I want blood
It ain't black and white if you're living right between what it is and once
was
I want blood
