

Yeah, it all began when I was 'bout the age of six
Dad went to the store and now I haven't seen him since
Then when I was nine another man into the mix
Almost slit his throat because I saw him hit his bitch

This is just the surface of the things I can't forget
You look into my eyes and it's all pain and suffering
And I could kill myself but I don't wanna try again
I'm only still alive 'cause I have tolerance to Fen

I am everything they try to be
You can [?]
Now it's Gucci on my ass and on my joggers, on my feet
And I don't leave the house without my blade at twenty-thirty

And I hate all this drama in my head
Walls are closing in, I wanna paint 'em all with red
Think I made it, a diamond noose around my neck
Everything I wanted but I still wanna be dead

Listen to your words 'cause I swear it ain't never gonna be Any worse than the hurt I've already done to me
I'm a man on a mission to outrun eternity
I got fans but still feel like ain't nobody heard of me
If I die, will you cry for this rapper life
He was married to game but he couldn't find a wife
We would put up with this shit since he rather would commit
Suicide than be caught dead in a real relationship

I am everything they try to be
You can [?]

Will anybody help? Will anybody help?
Will anybody help? Will anybody help?
Will anybody help? Will anybody help?
I'm used to life alone so I'll just do it by myself
