

Show Me

Fey

The risk of opening up it makes me feel vulnerable when your heart is naked everything can hurt you more.

Show me something new show me, what will you do? we have to swallow our pride it's much better to cry show me show me show me the truth.

If you're willing to trust things can be better i really knew that you gave your best but i know i can choke you suffocate you with my love.

Show me something new show me, what will you do? we have to swallow our pride it's much better to cry show me show me show me the truth.

Rubbing salt into the wound could turn a small scratch into an erupting volcano you thought it could be simple how could it be? with love this powerful.

To move on we have to clear the dragons of our minds if you're going to stand up and fight for what we have say the words you're hiding in your heart

Show me something new show me, what will you do? we have to swallow our pride it's much better to cry show me show me show me the truth.
