

I was so broken
A frozen statue
Wasn't moving forward
More falling backwards
Into old habits
Thought you must be a god
More like an angel
Like in the bible
Seemed to know what's best
I guess you were right
I put up a fight
You brought me back to life

You're not a therapist
But I don't care you're much better than that
The smile on my face is your work of art
So much my cheeks beginning to ache
I just can't wait to pay you back
You don't even know it, can you see it

Yeah you saved my life
You were just in time
Lucky just to meet ya
When I was super low
You gave me back my glow
You like me when I don't
You put me back together
When I was super low
You gave me back my glow
You gave me back my glow

I had lost hope
And nothing else mattered
I couldn't fake a smile
More like a sad face
I thought at this rate
Friends were running a mile
You were an island
More like a life raft
Couldn't let me sink
Those terrors at night
Left after a while
You brought me back to life

You're not a therapist
But I don't care you're much better than that
The smile on my face is your work of art
So much my cheeks beginning to ache
I just can't wait to pay you back
You don't even know it, can you see it

Yeah you saved my life
You gave me back my glow
You like me when I don't

You put me back together
You gave me back my glow
You gave me back my glow

"Ye need a distraction
Go to a party
Take your mind off it
Sleep when your dead
I'll fight your battles
I'll make you breakfast
Send you a playlist
Put you to bed
You need a vacation
Find you a past time
Run 'til you can't walk
Outta your head
Say it's your birthday
Drink on a Wednesday
Stop feeling guilty"

Yeah you saved my life
You gave me back my glow
You like me when I don't
When I was super low
You gave me back my glow
You gave me back my glow
You gave me back my glow
You gave me back my glow
You gave me back my glow
