

Load on Your Mind

Fickle Friends

Would you show me what there is to see?
I've been living in this dream for eternity
I've been overwhelmed, I've been so damn insecure
I need the loving of a friend, I need a nurturer
It's so hard to let it go
Sometimes you just need to scream into your pillow
I've been feeling like I'm running low on energy
I've been looking for a cure, for a remedy, yeah

Hope that you know
I'm a stone throw away
If there's a load on your mind
I'll be the shoulder to carry your weight
No need to fear or to hide

Would you show me what there is to see?
I've been living in this dream for eternity
I've been overwhelmed, I've been so damn insecure
I need the loving of a friend, I need a nurturer
It's so hard to let it go
Sometimes you just need to scream into your pillow
I've been feeling like I'm running low on energy
I've been looking for a cure, for a remedy, yeah

Where do you go at the end of the day?
Losing the concept of time
I'll hear you out when you've something to say
If there's a load on your mind

Would you show me what there is to see?
