

Not the Only One

Fiction Factory

A voice is like a splintered glass
A sound that cuts to hear
And where is love in this cool war?
I'm haunted by, I'm daunted by

A dream (dream)
A dream (dream)
You won't deny
The weakness of intentions
A dream (dream)
Your dream (dream)
You won't deny
The source of all that's good inside

You're not the only one to live this way
Look at the reason from your knees
You're not the only one to live this way
And dreams will bring you to your knees

And where is love in this cool war?
With words of steel you can't conceal
A dream (dream)
Your dream (dream)
The voice inside
Where all that's left is no surprise

You're not the only one to live this way
Look at the reason from your knees
You're not the only one to live this way
And dreams will bring you to your knees
You're fading

You're not the only one to live this way
Look at the reason from your knees
You're not the only one to live this way
And dreams will bring you to your knees

For love is strong in this cruel world
And most of you, what's closer to
A dream (dream)
Your dream (dream)
A last goodbye
To every thought you let me fight

(You're not the only one)
I'm haunted by
(You're not the only one)
That I'm daunted by
With words of steel you
(You're not the only one)
Can't conceal but
You're not the only
(Not the only one)

You're not the only one to live this way
Look at the reason from your knees
You're not the only one to live this way

And dreams will bring you to your knees

You're not the only one to live this way
Look at the reason from your knees
You're not the only one to live this way
And dreams will bring you to your knees

You're not the only one to live this way
Look at the reason from your knees
You're not the only one to live this way
And dreams will bring you to your knees
