

It never gets better
Wasted six months getting clean
My mind's full of terrors
My chest shakes with every heart beat
I wake in the black veil of dawn
All day long I grieve
Moments that have all slipped away
I clutch every broken piece

I said I'd die with a song
On my lips with empty arms
Give my final breath away
It's all I can to carry on
Even when the light is gone
All the world in shades of gray

Life's a trap
Infinite flashback
Love never felt the same
Since my first taste of happiness
Sorrow only remains

I said I'd die with a song
On my lips with empty arms
Give my final breath away
It's all I can to carry on
Even when the light is gone
All the world in shades of gray

I said I'd die with a song
On my lips with empty arms
Give my final breath away
It's all I can to carry on
Even when the light is gone
All the world in shades of gray

Life's a trap
Infinite flashback
Love never felt the same
