

Queen of Thieves

Fifth Angel

She's got the mind of a snake in the garden,
She sold the soul of the Earth,
She stole her body from the stars in the sky,
She wants to know what you're worth,

She will not listen
when she's told what to do anymore,
She was a virgin till bit from the fruit,
And it was rotten to the core,

Oh queen, queen of thieves,
Thine will is hard I don't believe,
You ever loved, loved at all,
Just as you rise so you must fall,

You will know when you look in her eyes,
She sees your heart as her toy,
And don't be fooled when she starts to cry,
She'll make a man a little boy,

She turned and twisted the truth
so that you wouldn't realize,
She tormented millions of lives,
She's just a demon in disguise,

Oh queen, queen of thieves,
You stole my heart now give it back to me,
Queen, thine will is hard,
And as you rise so you must fall,

Woe, Woe, Woe...

She turned and twisted the truth
so that you wouldn't realize,
She tormented millions of lives,
She's just a demon in disguise,

Oh queen, queen of thieves,
You stole my heart now give it back to me,
Queen, queen of thieves,
I don't believe you ever loved at all,
Queen, it's your own fault,
Through your deceit you took it all,
Queen, thine will is hard,
And as you rise so you must fall.
