

Stars Are Falling

Fifth Angel

You just might that you've got
All the time there is just to burn,
But time has turned,
It's your reflection that you've always counted on,
What's your goal, to save your soul?

You always want to be someone,
But you sold your secrets to the sun,

You better run,
you better run, you better run,
'Cause the stars are falling from the sky,
You better run,
you better run to be someone,
Is the answer there inside?

You will play with light and shadow,
To make illusions really feel,
What do you conceal?
Is there an emptiness one that you can't fulfill or satisfy,
Before you die,

You always want to be someone,
But life's a game of zero sum,

You better run, you better run, you better run,
'Cause the stars are falling from the sky,
You better run,
you better run to be someone,
Is the answer there inside?

Make your mark upon the Earth,
And show the gods just what you're worth,

You better run,
you better run, you better run,
'Cause the stars are falling from the sky,
You better run,
you better run to be someone,
Make your mark before you die,
You better run, you better run, you better run, be someone,
'Cause the stars are falling from the sky,
You better run,
you better run to be someone,
It's time to do or die...
