

A Day Is Coming

Fight The Fade

You've kept me here
Under your thumb
You're living your dreams
But I'm allowed none
You bring your offerings
But I'm too late
To see the blessings you see
But that's about to change

A day is coming, when we will arise
It's already starting, to boil up inside
So strap on your armor, raise your shields to the sky
Because a day is coming, when your walls are set on fire

Do you feel the winds of change
Swirling the clouds?
Truth is a tornado
Tearing down your house

A day is coming, when we will arise
It's already starting, to boil up inside
So strap on your armor, raise your shields to the sky
Because a day is coming, when your walls are set on fire

Do you feel it? Do you feel the winds?
Do you feel the fire? Do you feel the change?!
Can you feel the change?

A day is coming, when we will arise
It's already starting, to boil up inside
So strap on your armor, raise your shields to the sky
Because a day is coming, when your walls are set on fire
