

Rivalry

Figurines

Last week there was a change in luck
The victory was solid as a rock
I need to know your name
I need to bury shame

Remove the magic, it was rather rough
It changed the days and turned them on and off
There was a rivalry showing the worst of me

Prepare the idle conquest
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
And make them understand that
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
Prepare the idle conquest
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
We'll make them understand it
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise

I know you have a lot to show
Sometimes the town lights up too slow
Before the waves awake I'll go
I know you have a lot to show

So do what you want to do
And move where you want to move

Embrace your county where we had our fun
Or be forgotten on the day you're gone
There was an injury
I didn't want to see

Prepare the idle conquest
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
And make them understand that
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
Prepare the idle conquest
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
We'll make them understand it
Time will raise you, in time you'll rise
