

Already Gone

Filous

Dust lays in the sunlight, shining through the curtain now
It'll never be the right time to talk it out
I don't wanna lose you, come on now, it isn't far
Reaching out to touch you and grab the air

I close the blinds, maybe I should say goodbye

Heart beating, still breathing, but you're already gone
Don't leave me, I need ya, but you're already gone

Started with your [?], getting closer to the end
It's too late to say no, [?]
No reason to go home, and there's no reason why to stay
[?] me so close, far away

I close the blinds, maybe I should say goodbye

Heart beating, still breathing, but you're already gone
Don't leave me, I need ya, but you're already gone

Heart beating, still breathing, but you're already gone
Don't leave me, I need ya, but you're already gone

I don't wanna lose you, come on now, it isn't far
Reaching out to touch you and grab the air
I close the blinds, maybe I should say goodbye
