Drowning

Filter

Maybe there's a line we cross when we get too familiar
Maybe it's because the love is gone and replaced by fear
Sometimes we don't laugh with each other
Sometimes we just cut each other... we are fine

Just try to pull me from the sand
I wish I learned to swim the open tears
The rivers from your eyes are drowning me
I can't swim so pull me in
'Cause now I'm drowning

Maybe there's a time that's gone that we should try to remember
Maybe there's a line we crossed where memories disappear
Sometimes we don't laugh with each other
Sometimes we just pass each other in the night

Just try to pull me from the sand
I wish I'd learned to swim the open tears
The rivers from your eyes are drowning me
I can't swim so pull me in...

Just try to pull me from the sand
I wish I learned to swim the open tears
The rivers from your eyes are drowning me
I can't swim so pull me in
'Cause now I'm drowning
