

There are people who don't belong here.
You can tell 'cause they keep to themselves.
Crack one open and see what's inside of their heads,
And find out what true beauty is.

And don't go around her now.
'Cause we can't let this girl down.
We don't always think so clearly.
She lets others do for herself.

Crack her open.

There are places that she goes
With faces that she knows,
Tells her that she's wonderful.
Crack one open and see what's inside of her head,
And find out what truly began your life here.

And don't go around her now.
'Cause we can't let this girl down.
We don't always think so clearly.
She puts others first than herself.

Run away.
Run away.
Run away.
Run away.

And don't go around her now.
'Cause we can't let this girl down.
We don't always think so clearly.
We don't always think so clear.
And don't go around her.
And don't go around her.
And don't go around her.
And don't go around her.
