

Out Loud

Fink

I found myself in tricky spots before
I always dig myself out or dig myself deeper in
I find your name on my lips like an involuntary call and response
To the earth as it rains down on me

I found myself in all these streets before
There's the place we sat for hours and planned our house of cards
I need your touch right now
You've never been so far away yet I see you coming round every corner

The future is more important than today, I need you to stay
The future is more important than today
I need you to say it out loud

I find tomorrow's coming closer every day
Times like a river and we're like the twigs
Thrown from the bridge on a cold winter's day
I need my name on your lips cause yours on mine's like
A tattoo I'll never regret no matter how faded or jaded or crazy it gets

The future is more important than today, I need you to stay
The future is more important than today
I need you to say it out loud
Out loud, out loud, out loud
