

I Just Wanted to Leave

Fiona Apple

Window is the beginning of that song It's litteral
I was actually sitting there and look through a window I didn't break the window because it's a funny thing when I listen to that song because I was looking, I was turning at the window and listening to somebody talk to me about bad staff that I didn't want to hear and it was a dirty window and I'm like sitting with the song in my head this is going on and I didn't break the window I thought I was going to but I just didn't want to ask to fight anymore

I just wanted to leave...
