Fire From The Gods

Collapse
You're breaking down
Falling right down on your knees
Collapse
You're breaking down

C'mon think about it
How many times have you encountered
The end of your rope
When your vision is blurred
Your mind is fucked and cloudy
You take the poison
You put it right back in the body
Infect the bloodstream
You feeling all rowdy
Your pupils widen looking for that clarity
Back on that parity
You're leveling out
Life's a joke, you've become a parody
A caricature of a life you think live
That ain't me
Needing that fix
You alter your state and now you're collapsing

Down, down

Collapse
You're breaking down
Falling right down on your knees
Collapse
You're breaking down
You're feeling so weak
Collapse
You're breaking down
Pull yourself up and realize
No one is coming to save you
So save yourself

Collapse to relapse
Breaking down, you're on the ground again
You collapse to relapse
Praying for salvation
Ain't nobody bout to save you now
From the collapse, the relapse or break down
You put yourself in that hell
So it's on you to pull up and break out
Ain't nobody bout to save you now
They're watching
Crash burn and drown

Down, down

Collapse
You're breaking down
Falling right down on your knees
Collapse
You're breaking down

You're feeling so weak
Collapse
You're breaking down
Pull yourself up and realize

Ain't nobody bout to save you now

Ain't nobody bout to save you now
From the collapse, the relapse or break down

They'll watch you suffer and drown

Collapse
You're breaking down
Falling right down on your knees
Collapse
You're breaking down
You're feeling so weak

Collapse
You're breaking down
Pull yourself up and realize

And realize
No one is coming to save you
So save yourself
