

Trust

Fire From The Gods

Do you want to hear it from another liar
Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite
Who will you trust
Who will you trust!

Overlooked now these pretenders got my spot
But I'm still holding it down for the mandem with real heart
I am still the extraordinary revolutionary
I am grim reaper
I write the obituary
For all these false prophets and these false Idols
Do anything for prophet you are now my rival
I will never be your disciple
Find my logic in the dark spaces in bibles

When they get found out their minds be blown out
Tryna act like they really know what they talking about
Nothing but lies that be coming out their mouth
Cuz they up on the gram they say anything for clout

Do you want to hear it from another liar
Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite
Who will you trust
Who will you trust
Do you want to hear it from another coward
Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite
They won't save us
Who will you trust

I re-emerge from the dark
I am just not here just to play a simple part
I re-inject some life into the open minds and open hearts
Filter out the noise that has us hypnotised
Dig through idiocy that's normalised
Wake up the mentally paralysed
Give me my right to believe my own eyes

Do you want to hear it from another liar
Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite
Who will you trust
Who will you trust
Do you want to hear it from another coward
Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite
They won't save us
Who will you trust

Search deep in your mind and you will find that's where the truth lies
We are all Gods inside
Real recognise real trust in the I n I
Yo all these clowns on the gram
Stay tryna flex tryna show off for the fam
Trust me yo they ain't really your mans
Nah you are not my mans

Do you want to hear it from another liar
Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite
Who will you trust

Who will you trust

Do you want to hear it from another liar

Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite

Who will you trust

Who will you trust

Do you want to hear it from another coward

Do you want to hear it from another hypocrite

They won't save us

Who will you trust

Who will you trust
