

Tropical Night

Firefall

Full moon shining over Riscane Bay
Night wind rides and blows the clouds away
I can see her in the pale moonlight
Of a tropical night, tropical night
Night birds wing into the open sea
Night wind singing as it touches me
I hear echoes when the wind is right
Of a tropical night, tropical night

And it's what I know
Love that woman so (I love that woman oh, I love that woman)
And it's what I know
Memories come and go (I love that woman oh, I love that woman)
Woman I know that I can't let you go

Waves come crashing on the rising tide
Moonbeams flashing from the waves they ride
Streaks of silver on a sea of white
In a tropical night, tropical night

And it's what I know
Love that woman so (I love that woman oh, I love that woman)
And it's what I know
Memories come and go (I love that woman oh, I love that woman)
Woman I know that I can't let you go, oh no

I remember how she looked that night
A tropical night, tropical night
On a tropical night
