

I Won't Look Back

Fireflight

I was feeling powerless searching for a sign
When I heard you whisper
Lies are like an hourglass running out of time
You played me to shame me, breaking me, taking me over

I've come to take back what was stolen, your power is broken
I'll drop a match in the shadow, as you explode
I won't look back

Cornered by your cowardice, a victim by design
You hide in my silence
Now I know I have a voice, my eyes are open wide
This fiction has ended, your words are all burning to ashes

I've come to take back what was stolen, your power is broken
I'll drop a match in the shadow, as you explode
I won't look back

Light it up
I won't look back

I've come to take back what was stolen, your power is broken
I'll drop a match in the shadow, as you explode
I won't look back

Light it up
