Distant Thoughts

Firewind

This lost child reasons why
This world filled with lies
Son of the lands stained
Himself pride to pay

Bring this as you will
This thing calls for you
I won't let the past
I know you won't last

Something hits me from above
A name of life and the rest of God
Wishing for the same aligning
An open mind and the will to live

Coming out of the sky a power strikes
Down my life away under blackened ties
A sickened world with no place to stay!

YEAH!

I won't say who you are
I won't call your name
You can't be who you are
You can't say your name

Self worth is the key
Time brings that to see
Sweat for the lost land
Search for the lost lamb

YEAH!

Coming out of the sky a power strikes
Down my life away under blackened ties
A sickened world with no place to stay!
