

All That We Get

First Aid Kit

If you're going to run then you better run fast
I've always been told that the good can never last
Only sky above me and water below
I feel farther from you than ever before

So I wait to break
Each memory down as they pass by
We both made our mistakes
And I know that there's no telling why

I've had dreams of where this life of mine could lead
Pictured storming romances and heroic dreams
I've never thought I'd end up where I am
If I know anything, it's that nothing goes as planned

Now the sun's coming up
The world spins on the same old song
I'm still here, amidst my fears
With nothing to fall back upon

What if this is all that we get
All that is dealt to us
Then is that really not enough?
There are many places to go
Faces we'll never know
But I got you and that's enough
That's more than enough

I'm tired of looking for truth, for answers
No clue seems to be found as to where I'm bound
Where I'm bound

If you're going to run then you better run fast
I've always been told that the good can never last

But if this is all that we get
All that is dealt to us
Then is that really not enough?
There are many places to go
Faces we'll never know
But I got you and that's enough
That's more than enough
