

It All Kept Startin' Over Again

Fishbone

It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end

I flew to the nearest escape
I ran from the land of rape
I jumped in the krnked up pit
I skuttled over snakes and bacon bits
I slipped on the peel of misfortune
I stumbled while tryin' to recover a fumble
I scraped up the flattened and started again I leaped from within without a spring or a spin we be cyclin' in a cyclic way

It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end

I sauntered onto a thinly paved scalp
I staggered from a glass of stout I took a loan I could not afford I launched up hi the halo in the sky
I come up from beneath and remove the confining sheath
I slithered with stealth and snuck past the infection
I lurched forward in one solid direction I stood alone because I had to survive we recycle in a cyclic way

It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end
It all kept startin' over again
with a different beginning and a different end

Like a snotty nose spoilyor a booger eatin' bully scapegoat distraction is to keep from lookin' silly Oh ya -- alright like a snotty nose spoily or a booger eatin' bully ugly on the inside on the outside lookin' pretty oh ya -- alright we be cyclin' in a cyclic way maze like this amazed like this we recycle in a cyclic way lost in a daze like this we recycle in a cyclic way

And it all kept startin' over again
And it all kept startin' over again
And it all kept startin' over again

And it all kept startin' over again
And it all kept startin' over again
