

Between Us

Fit for a King

We gave it our best, but it wasn't enough
A thorn in my side from the rose that grew in between us
We broke all the rules, and we fell apart
If only I knew, knew who you'd be right from the start

I just want to drift away into nothing
I just want to feel this pain miles away

You gave up on us, 'cause I wasn't enough
I thought this would be, be something more
More than it was
Yeah, you ran away, but I won't look back
I'll get better each day
The day that you're gone and out of my past

I just want to drift away into nothing
I just want to feel this pain miles away

We suffered through the coldest nights
Made it to the last goodbye
This can't be the end
This can't be the end

Now we're broken and defeated
But we're haunting what we're leaving
Like a phantom slowly fading into the night

I just want to drift away into nothing
I just want to feel this pain miles away

We suffered through the coldest nights
Waiting for the last goodbye
This can't be the end
This can't be the end

I just want to drift away into nothing
I just want to feel this pain miles away
