I reached out my hand but you let me fall To the deepest depths where I could never be found, where I could never be h  $\operatorname{urt}$

I built my foundation with the fragile hands of of fellow men

You believed that I was a king and that you were only there to help me when I needed you How quick I was to forget your life  $$

Save me from the hell I made
Let me fall apart and repair me again
Fix me, I am broken
Let my heart burst 'til my chest is open

Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
When you took this from me
You had it all
You let the world go
Now I'm lost and shaking

Every breath I took
Was another promise of my betrayal
Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
We're all lost and sick

We can't fix the past But with an open heart Life can be changed forever

Build me up Show me life's worth living Tear me down Tell me the all hurt I'm causing

I've spent my whole life thinking faith was dead
But now I've realized
I never had trust in You
I had faith in men

Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
When you took this from me
You had it all
You let the world go
Now I'm lost and shaking

Every breath I took
Was another promise of my betrayal
Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
We're all lost and sick

We're all lost and sick We're all sick

Take me home

Take me home to a place
Where my heart is full
And I'm surrounded by grace
Take me away from this world
And everything that I've craved replace

Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
When you took this from me
You had it all
You let the world go
Now I'm lost and shaking

Every breath I took
Was another promise of my betrayal
Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
We're all lost and sick

Where did you go?
Where did you run to?
When you took this from me
(We're all lost and sick)
You had it all
You let the world go
Now I'm lost and shaking

Every breath I took
Was another promise of my betrayal
Where do you go?
Where do you run to?
We're all lost and sick

We're all lost and sick