

Descending

Five Bolt Main

There is a feeling coming over me, it shows me how I really ought to be

It knows that there is something after me, why hide in shadows that I cannot see

I'm learning how to overcome disease, I'm making changes where they need to be

And after all of this is done with me, there's still a missing part I see

Hoping, pretending, that I'm not descending

They watch as I become deplete, it scratches at the very heart of me

How can we still achieve release, when everything is incomplete

Hoping, pretending, that I'm not descending

Manifest what you need, manifest your destiny

Manifest what you need, manifest-destiny

Don't let them make you think they're in control, you're the one who labors

Hoping, pretending, that I'm not descending

Manifest what you need, manifest your destiny

Manifest what you need, manifest-destiny