Walk Away

Five Finger Death Punch

I'm sorry for the demon I've become You should be sorry for the angel you are not I apologize for the cruel things that I did But I don't regret one single word I said

Just walk away, make it easy on yourself Just walk away, please release me from this hell Just walk away, there's just nothing left to feel Just walk away, pretend that none of this is real

Forgive me if I told you that I cared Would you be sorry if I swore that I'd be there? Please forgive me for laughing when you fall I'm so sorry but I never cared at all

Just walk away, make it easy on yourself Just walk away, please release me from this hell Just walk away, there's just nothing left to feel Just walk away, pretend that none of this is, none of this is

Just walk away, make it easy on us both Just walk away, there was never any hope Just walk away, you already know the deal Just walk away, pretend that none of this is was, none of this was real
