Every New Day

Five Iron Frenzy

When I was young, the smallest trick of light Could catch my eye
Then life was new and every new day
I thought that I could fly

I believed in what I hoped for, And I hoped in things unseen I had wings and dreams could soar, I just don't feel like flying anymore

When the stars threw down their spears Watered Heaven with their tears Before words were spoken Before eternity

Dear Father, I need You, Your strength my heart to mend I want to fly higher Every new day again

When I was small, the furthest I could reach Was not so high
Then I thought the world was so much smaller,
Feeling I could fly

Through distant deeps and skies Behind infinity Below the face of Heaven He stoops to create me

Dear Father, I need You, Your strength my heart to mend I want to fly higher Every new day again

Man versus himself
Man versus machine
Man versus the world
Mankind versus me
The struggles go on
The wisdom I lack
The burdens keep piling
Up on my back
So hard to breathe
To take the next step
The mountain is high
I wade in the depths
Yearning for grace
And hoping for peace
Dear God increase

Healing hands of God have mercy On our unclean souls once again Jesus Christ, light of the world Burning bright within our hearts forever

Freedom means love without condition

Without a beginning or an end Here's my heart, let it be forever Yours Only You can make every new day seem so new
