

One Girl Army

Five Iron Frenzy

Here lies the old myth
Breaking the mold with
Truth to take away the trickery
Twenty centuries of progress
Suffer slowly as we regress
Losing headway to ourselves
Behold, the covers
The sisters, the mothers, the daughters
And spouses on the magazines
Truth has been abused
How could she fill those shoes?
Propaganda meant to fuel their schemes

She is strong but never silent
Sure of where her truth/strength comes from
One day
One girl army will overcome

Treading the current
Issues at hand
Shifting, we sway from justice and then back again
What we once broke
He has made right
Lifting her up
Giving birth to Jesus Christ
