

So Typical

Five Times August

This morning sky won't clear up
Feels like it's been raining 3 whole months
But maybe if we chin up
We could turn the days into what we want

And so, for everything, I'm sorry
It's so typical, don't worry about it

Filling in the outlines
Of memories that we could never draw in
Then running in these circles
Will make us dizzy, we'll just keep on falling

And so, for everything, I'm sorry
It's so typical, don't worry about it

We just need to situate ourselves
Get away, just evacuate this hell
Maybe take a short vacation
A little rest and relaxation
Could never hurt all for something so typical

So, for everything, I'm sorry
It's so typical, don't worry about it
And so, for everything, I'm sorry
It's so typical, don't worry about it