

Fading Away

Fivefold

Finding peace in this prison
Never seemed so hard before
What am I searching for
Just a touch of the feeling
The feel and rush of two hearts beating
Why am I left dancing in the rain again
Singing my song once more when I can't seem to get

Just some place where I belong
And don't take this from me

I've been fading away
Memories are turning to gray
But every step that I take
The closer I get
To finding there's more to me
Than what these eyes have seen
It's within my reach
And I'll take it all

I am withered and
Broken and weary but I'm not
Throwing it all away
For something that only fades
Been through the battle
Been through the war but I still can't find
What I'm searching for

Just some place where I belong
And don't take this from me

I've been fading away
Memories are turning to gray
But every step that I take
The closer I get
To finding there's more to me
Than what these eyes have seen
It's within my reach
And I'll take it all

Just some place where I belong
I've been fading away
Memories are turning to gray
But every step that I take
The closer I get
To finding there's more to me
Than what these eyes have seen
It's within my reach
And I'll take it all

I've been fading away
And I'll take it all
