

Fighting Madness

Fivefold

On a wire
We stare at the waves below us
All that is at stake
Hearts on fire
Burning for a no tomorrow
Only we can create

So say I'm a dreamer
But I've seen mine
The [?] that you call
Our everyday life
Stare out to the sunrise
With fists in the air
Together we sing

I have the power to take it away
Was given a voice and I will use it today
To stop all the madness, more than I can take
I'm a shotgun waiting for my moment to break

Can you feel the heat
Rising from the ashes
Of a broken down machine
And trust me we won't leave
Till all is quiet
Till no more violence
In the streets

So say I'm a dreamer
But I've seen mine
The [?] that you call
Our everyday life
Stare out to the sunrise
With fists in the air
Together we sing

I have the power to take it away
Was given a voice and I will use it today
To stop all the madness, more than I can take
I'm a shotgun waiting for my moment to break

I will not fall away
Wasn't ever born to break
I will stand tall and cry out
Until they hear us now

Yeah!

I have the power to take it away
Was given a voice and I will use it today
To stop all the madness, more than I can take
I'm a shotgun waiting for my moment to break
