

Know It All

Fivefold

Don't hold me back
God knows I've been through this before
I can taste it in the air
And it leaves me wanting more
You've crossed me once
It's left some bitter taste
And now you push me
I will tear you down

If you are man enough to fight
And you are man enough to fall
What are you gonna do
With your back against the wall
You've played the game so far
Now come and claim your price
There's no escaping this time

You think you know it all
Talk will only take you so far
Before you have to prove it
This time I watch you loose it
You're out of line
And out of time
Just walk away
While you still have your pride

If you are man enough to fight
And you are man enough to fall
What are you gonna do
With your back against the wall
You've played the game so far
Now come and claim your price
There's no escaping this time

I will watch you fall
I will watch you fall

If you are man enough to fight
And you are man enough to fall
What are you gonna do
With your back against the wall
You've played the game so far
Now come and claim your price
There's no escaping this time

You're just a know it all
But I know your time
And I will watch you bleed
Watch you fall
