

Moving On

Fivefold

Waking up with a sinking feeling
Head is reeling guess you lost the meaning
Time to let it go we've been here before
Love you more than you know
Hope you know that brother

Half a decade since we took that first step
Lose ourselves in all the lessons of the past
Time to let it go
You've been here before
Part of this more than you know
Hope you know that

I've been thinking it's taking a lot out of me
When I keep on faking like this
Aint gonna break me down
I guess it's over now
Well you know that we've all been here before

Killing time when we should have been moving
Searching for any sign of life in the space empty
Love hard and let it roll
Got a long way to go
And you do too
So I'm waking up filling my cup
With the good times we had
All that's wasted on the wine
And a life lived
Well it seems I'll never let it go
Still working for the goal
Just need you to know that

I've been thinking it's taking a lot out of me
When I keep on faking like this
Aint gonna break me down
I guess it's over now
Well you know that we've all been here before
I've been dreaming of what we're gonna see
When we keep on walking the path
That's gonna lead us home
Just don't forget about this one
You know that we've all been here before

And you have too
We're bound to lose our way sometimes
And we don't choose the way our paths
Tend to collide
It's all just learning
It's all just loving the process
Of course its a loss but it's a gain
If we walk like we talk
Keep the fire burning
Five years spent on a dream
Just don't forget my name

I've been thinking it's taking a lot out of me
When I keep on faking like this

Aint gonna break me down
I guess it's over now
Well you know that we've all been here before
I've been dreaming of what we're gonna see
When we keep on walking the path
That's gonna lead us home
Just don't forget about this one
You know that we've all been here before
