

Step Back

Fivefold

Let's go!

I'm feeling stronger than before
Left me in pieces on the floor
This time I'm taking what I got
And I'm leaving what you say I'm not
This hell we used to call our home
Less of a dream more like a tomb
And that's why these memories are gone
Every broken word is falling on

An early grave
We're too young to stay

So step back, step back and walk away
There's nothing to see here
Why must we waste all this time on feeding
Dreams that were never meant to be
We're worn at the seams here
All you can do
Is step back, step back and walk away

These bones cry out for something more
Just left to wash up on the shore
Of this sea full of fallen tears
Built up from all of the years
Spent watching you control my life
While swearing peace, you held the knife
And now I'm at the end of my rope
And as for my goodbye you can choke

On all your lies
I'm too broken to try

So step back, step back and walk away
There's nothing to see here
Why must we waste all this time on feeding
Dreams that were never meant to be
We're worn at the seams here
All you can do
Is step back, step back and walk away
Again

Over again
Over again
Over again
Over again, over again, over again
Over again

So step back, step back and walk away
There's nothing to see here
Why must we waste all this time on feeding
Dreams that were never meant to be
We're worn at the seams here
All you can do
Is step back, step back and walk away
Again

Over again
