

The Reckoning

Fivefold

Breaking into silence again
And every word unsaid
Cuts me to the bone
Making sad excuses for why
We've become so numb inside
We just cant feel

And we keep on screaming
We're screaming

I swear I saw a light
In there that brought me
To my knees and gasping for air
So tell me, are you willing
To give up everything
For this, every little thing for this

At a loss for words of who you are
'Cause you never showed me
What's inside your heart
And was it a lie
The firefight inside your eyes
Because I can't feel it
I can't see it tonight, oh

We keep on screaming
Oh, we're screaming

But I swear I saw a light
In there that brought me
To my knees and gasping for air
So tell me, are you willing
To give up everything
For this, every little thing for this

Don't throw this all away
Grab my hand I will save you
I'll save you yeah
If you can hear me now
Let me know scream it out
Just scream it out
Just scream it out

Just keep on screaming
You're screaming

But I swear I saw a light
In there that brought me
To my knees and gasping for air
Tell me, are you willing
To give up everything
For this, every little thing for this
Every little thing for this
