

Stereo Boy

FKA twigs

You don't want much at all
A six-seater and an Adderall
I tried to catch a ride
Doors open, suicide

I tried to get your attention
But you were too busy looking at the passing lights

I heard the static in your heart
'Cause you're just a stereo boy
Stereo boy
I changed the station, but my pain, it still remained
'Cause you're just a stereo boy
Stereo boy

You want just what you said
A fast life and an empty head
I tried to catch a ride
Doors open, suicide

Look at me
I'll let you drive me off the edge
If I can land in your oils

I heard the static in your heart
'Cause you're just a stereo boy
Stereo boy
I changed the station, but my pain, it still remained
'Cause you're just a stereo boy
Stereo boy

I heard the static in your heart and fell apart
'Cause you're just a stereo boy
Stereo boy
I changed the station, but my pain, it still remained
'Cause you're just a stereo boy
Stereo boy
