

Scattered Tulips

Flame

The Lord always brings you what you need
Right on time too
I'm just thankful for the journey

Hallelujah God
It came in the nick of time
Calvinism was a bomb
Rescued me from my decline
Bigger picture painted God
Scripture get prioritized
Wants to fit my inter, berded, nerded, quirky side
I'm persuaded by the Bible
Mr. John (John)
Soldiers next to Jesus from [?]
Switch the line
But its crazy though
You put what you know to the five
Test the systematics
With other error the paradigms
What you find?
You find great men who know Greek, Hebrew too
You find great women, well learned outside of your group
They them strong pillars
They used to stand throughout the fall
Now you digging through the rubble
Struggle to rebuild your walls
Oh God

I see scattered tombs
Come with me I'll show you what I found
I be digging in the text
Funny what you found
When you look to the ground

I see scattered tombs
Come with me I'll show you what I found
I be digging in the text

Funny what you found
When you look to the ground

[?] they not taken God
Nah now need some peace of mind
Too obscene on the ground
They eyes of [?] Romans 9
No it used to seem like the biggest thing at the time
God's sovereignty started really shrinking God down in size
I'm predestined right
Let's assume I'm one of the elect
At a low point
Life a mess, in the flesh
Where you find me at? (Yeah)
Introspecting try to check
Looking deep within myself
Trying my best to access
Was I genuine?
Am I regenerate?

Better yet
Was I ever really with them?
Will they hit with Matthew 7?
Let's be clearer were justified by faith
Maybe Mr. Calvinist ain't the [?] out of place
I don't know

I see scattered tombs
Come with me I'll show you what I found
I be digging in the text
Funny what you found
When you look to the ground

I see scattered tombs
Come with me I'll show you what I found
I be digging in the text
Funny what you found
When you look to the ground
