

Home Thru Hell

Flaming Lips

Riding along through the Deep Valley where the dragons of madness roam

Carrying my story on my Yamaha back home

I could hear the screaming vultures screaming out my name

Not knowing I was lost along this long, bad highway

I finally made it home thru hell

Under the hypnotizer's spell

I finally made it home through hell

I hope I live to tell

I finally made it (home)

I gladly accept your invitation because I sent it to myself

Prepare for my arrival

Stock the fridge and fill the shelf

And I'll bring treasures from a lifetime in California

We can build, we can break

Tête-à-tête and give and take, getting philosophical

I finally made it home thru hell

Under the hypnotizer's spell

I finally made it home through hell

I hope I live to tell

I finally made it (home)

Oh, I think I tried too hard to shut the mouth of doom

Taking all my wisdom from the flaming lips of youth

Now I feel my rapper's heart and think with my baby's brain

And I still ride my Yamaha, but everything else is changed

I finally made it home thru hell

Under the hypnotizer's spell

I finally made it home through hell

I hope I live to tell

I finally made it (home)
