

Ain't Over You Yet

Flatland Cavalry

It all started just the other day
Should've seen the look on my face
You were standing there
Long brown hair
A crowded lobby, unaware
And just like that you were gone
Before I could smile or wave hello
And though it's probably for the best
And I can't help but feel in my chest
If I've learned anything I'd be a fool
To chase you down and say hello
Knowin' "hey girl, how you doing, where you been?"
Would only leave me wantin' more

'Cause I quit smokin' cigarettes and
Gave up drinkin' to forget
And they say old habits die hard
They seem to be the hardest part
I quit lyin' and taking bets
But some addictions you can't quit
When it comes to you I always lose
Guess I need my fix
Livin' my whole life with no regrets
But I guess I just ain't over you yet

Sittin' here for hours it seems
Hopin' you forgot something
But I know I'm only foolin' myself
I should've called you by that middle name
That no one knows and you'd be ashamed
But at least you would have recognized me
Hopin' "hey girl, how you doing, where you been?"
Would only lead to more

'Cause I quit smokin' cigarettes and
Gave up drinkin' to forget
And they say old habits die hard
They seem to be the hardest part
I quit lyin' and taking bets
But some addictions you can't quit
When it comes to you I always lose
Guess I need my fix
Livin' my whole life with no regrets
But I guess I just ain't over you yet

Livin' my whole life with no regrets
But I guess I just ain't over you yet
