

Do You Remember

Flaw

You know it's all about the self neglect
All your time is now being spent
Hidden behind the mask of results
Is the trap that we all must win

You can use all your worth
Then you slowly will embrace yourself

Do you remember the dream
Where you thought you could fly
Don't stop dreaming
You win when you try
Do you remember the dream
Where you thought you could fly
Don't stop dreaming

Why don't you learn a little self respect
Because your morals have all been bent
Open your eyes so you can see the price
Of the ones before you left

You can use all your worth
You will start to understand yourself

Do you remember the dream
Where you thought you could fly
Don't stop dreaming
You win when you try
Do you remember the dream
Where you thought you could fly
Don't stop dreaming

So if you learn how to trust, you trust in yourself
And think in your heart that what you feel is right inside
And I see the reasons all the rights, i told myself a thousand times
To hide the pain inside, inside

Do you remember the dream
Where you thought you could fly
Don't stop dreaming
You win when you try
Do you remember the dream
Where you thought you could fly
Don't stop dreaming

Do you remember the dream
(I still remember that I still remember that)
Where you thought you could fly
(I still remember that I still remember that)
Don't stop dreaming
You win when you try
Do you remember the dream
(I still remember that I still remember that)
Where you thought you could fly
(I still remember that I still remember that)
Don't stop dreaming
