

Everything

Flaw

Lonely, left out
Distant, cast without
So shy, listless
Don't cry, we're gonna fix this

Just try to sympathize
You've had a hard road as it may seem
Cause I can see it all in your eyes
Hurt way more than you should be
If there was ever anything inside
They always thought that you were crazy
You just shoved it all down inside
It really shouldn't have to be this way

Cause everything is alright, it'll be okay
We're gonna make it through this

You gotta know we're all the same inside
It doesn't matter what the others might say
We never seem to simply run and hide
The cards are dealt, we're wired as we should be
You gotta find a way to empathize
I got your back although it might seem crazy
Follow through and find a way to rise
We stand tall and be the best we can be

Cause everything is alright, it'll be okay
We're gonna make it through this
Don't ever let anyone bring you down, no way
We're gonna break right through this

Just let those feelings come slowly
And your hurt will filter out
It's alright for you to show me
That's what this life is all about

So shy, listless
We're gonna fix this

Cause everything is alright, it'll be okay
We're gonna make it through this
Don't ever let anyone bring you down, no way
Cause everything is alright, it'll be okay
We're gonna make it through this
Don't ever let anyone bring you down, no way
Cause everything is alright, it'll be okay
We're gonna make it through this
