

Persistence

Flaw

Drop that shit

No we won't back down, stuck here we hang around
And besides all the sounds, nothing ever brings us down
So we try oh so hard, we always find the solid ground
So that's why we don't give in, we gotta love the space we found

I'm all choked up back away from me
We're all so much stronger than we've ever ever been

You should be living your dreams, but you're living your fears
Not everything thing is quite as simple as it seems
If you're not taking a chance, then you're just grinding your gears
Persistence overcomes your fears

So don't make a sound, it'll all be over soon
Cuz you won't be around, this much we must assume
There's just no, no more time, you can make the same excuse
Cuz we're done, draw the line, we've had enough of this abuse

I'm all choked up back away from me
We're all so much stronger than we've ever ever been

You should be living your dreams, but you're living your fears
Not everything thing is quite as simple as it seems
If you're not taking a chance, then you're just grinding your gears
Persistence overcomes your fears

I've seen the worst of it
You just can't imagine this
Why do we label it
My hands are soaked in this
I've seen the worst of it
You just can't imagine this
Why do we label it
My hands are soaked in this

You should be living your dreams, but you're living your fears
Not everything thing is quite as simple as it seems
If you're not taking a chance, then you're just grinding your gears
Persistence overcomes your fears

You should be living your dreams, but you're living your fears
Not everything thing is quite as simple as it seems
If you're not taking a chance, then you're just grinding your gears
Persistence overcomes your fears
