

"My beloved king, I compose this letter to you
in the sleepless nightmare hour of the night,
wandering through cold and empty corridors.
I can hear these walls screaming your magnificent name
and i can find no peace."

I have to protect my breed,
no matter who I love, no matter how i feel.
It's in my pure drops, it's in my royal seed.

My great love, don't let me fall apart.
Desire is killing me, don't you let me drown in tears.

Don't cry, you know it's a hopeless wish.
No future for us, only bitter tears.
Preserve you frail heart from an unending bleed.

My great love, don't let me fall apart.
Desire is killing me, don't you let me drown in tears.

"Oh Lord, how long shall i bear the burden of my tormenting silence and live my life in the shadows?
This is a frightful conflict, this is not life.
Please, come and take me.
Please my love, please."

I will never come again. I forbid this love forever as time has come to forget and leave it to the past.
So make the right choice to save us before it too late.
Can't soil my blood for nothing and waste my heritage.
Can't blacken my name and lose my purity

My great love, don't let me fall apart.
Desire is killing me, don't you let me drown in tears.

My great love, don't let me fall apart.
Desire is killing me, don't you let me drown in tears.

My great love, don't let me fall apart.
Desire is killing me, don't you let me drown in tears.
