

Strangers

Fletcher

No time's the right time to reach out but here I go Always scared to love, wouldn't be enough, never be enough, we were way too young
The way we ended it, you know it makes me sick
How two people once could be so in love, now we never talk, nev er talk about

All the things we said and couldn't take back Swear I never meant it, and I hate that I hurt you
What I know right now, I wish I knew then
I'm trying to but I still don't understand

We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again
The things I love about you, I'm supposed to forget
And every time I think about you, it don't make any sense
We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again

Dive bars and our first kiss
Sophomores without scars yet
36 months, just the two of us, only one mistake to mess it up
I know I took so long to give you a response
It was just my pride pushing it aside, pushing you aside, make you wait for once

All the things we said and couldn't take back (Couldn't take ba ck) Swear I never meant it, and I hate that I hurt you (Hate that I hurt you)
What I know right now, I wish I knew then
I'm trying to but I still don't understand

We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again (Strange rs again)
The things I love about you, I'm supposed to forget (Supposed t o forget)
And every time I think about you, it don't make any sense (Don' t make any sense)
We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again

(Strangers again)
Strangers again
Strangers again

We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again
The things I love about you, I'm supposed to forget
And every time I think about you, it don't make any sense
We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again

Strangers again (No, no)

Strangers again

We started out as strangers, now we're strangers again