

Halfway

flipturn

You used to hold my soul
Oh, you held my soul
You used to have control
Oh, you loved me so

We used to roam around
You used to kiss my mouth
Now you never come around
Oh, you never come around

'Cause I can't change
Anything about me
But I won't
Blame anything on you

'Cause we were halfway to Houston
And I didn't care
Still smell your lips
I still taste your hair
And I did not love you
And I'm well aware
Maybe I used you
But I was almost there

You were gonna sink yourself
Baby, it's not that deep
I was gonna pull you out
But you tried to leave
And you said "oh go ahead now"

I remember
I can't forget
What you told me
What you said
I can't help you
Till you help yourself

'Cause I can't change
Anything about me
But I won't blame
Anything on you

We were halfway to Houston
And I didn't care
Still smell your lips
I still taste your hair
And I did not love you
And I'm well aware
Maybe I used you
But I was almost there
I'm almost there
