flipturn

Life I've waited for so long
And I know I should come back home
Death just lied and led me on Told me I, I could've been someone

And I
I keep walking, keep walking, keep walking, keep walking
And I
Keep walking, keep walking, keep walking, keep walking

Am I biased, too involved?
To honestly believe
If I went quiet, if I went cold

Oh, that I could still possess
The love I hold
Or that I could I slow my bones
From growing old

And I
I keep walking, keep walking, keep walking, keep walking
And I
Keep walking, keep walking, keep walking, keep walking
And I
Keep walking, keep walking, keep walking, keep walking
And I
Keep walking, keep walking, keep walking, keep walking

Keep walking
Keep walking, keep walking, keep walking
